CAMEO Talk on Wednesday 31st January:

At 10.30 am David Burrows will be giving a talk entitled Calculators, Electronics Engineers and Honeymoons.

A brief history of calculators throughout the ages, the reality of marrying an Electronics Engineer and exactly what happened on the honeymoon. (Full permission has been obtained from Mrs B for this public disclosure).

Godalming Museum:

The museum has an exhibition running from Tuesday 9th to Wednesday 31st January 2024 called Out of the Archives.

A fascinating selection of items, not normally on display, will be highlighted in the Museum's first exhibition of the year. See artworks, documents and photographs from the collection that are normally housed in the stores and archives and get a different perspective on Godalming's history.
